

Tile Coffee Table by Lee Broom

The Tile Coffee Table uses genuine traditional twice-fired tiles to create a decorative frame which is finished with a matching lacquered wood top.

The tile moulds are hand carved and monogrammed for authenticity and are produced by the same factory that supplies tiles for the London Underground. Inset feet COLLECTION: Heritage Boy, 2010 Drawing on traditional British manufacturing techniques to create a modern-day furniture collection which is divided into three distinct ranges: Carpentry, Parquetry and Tiles. The same philosophy, classic shapes and daring applications have been used in each distinctly unique range.
